The National Academy Foundation (NAF) is pleased to offer you the 1999-2000 list of General Resources. This non-exhaustive list of books, reports and online sites is meant to provide information to Academy members on a range of issues: school-to-work, curriculum development, fundraising, etc. Whether you go to the library, bookstore or order online, it is NAF's hope that the materials presented here will help build on the success of your Academy.

The listing of the following resources does not represent an endorsement by the National Academy Foundation. This compilation represents recommendations from Academy members across the country or materials used as resources in the development of NAF curriculum. To recommend other resources, email rafael@naf-education.org.
